We remind you that, in accordance with current legislation, it is strictly forbidden to dump any type of waste water into the sea inside the port, whether it is sewage or bilge water, not even that treated by the vessel's own systems.

This action is punishable by very high fines due to its seriousness, in addition to the inconvenience caused to other users of the port and damage to the environment due to pollution (dirt and odours).

In the event of detecting a spillage of this type, the competent authority will be informed to the port's Captaincy and furthermore, in accordance with the Port Adriano Police and Operations Regulations, the vessel may be required to leave the port temporarily or definitively prohibit its entry, in addition to the person responsible for the vessel being obliged to pay all the costs that the cleaning of the body of water may entail.

We have systems for emptying sewage and bilge water, both at moorings of 25 metres and over, and for smaller lengths at the petrol station. To make use of this system, you can contact the Port Captaincy. For the extraction of oil, it is necessary to use the services of a waste oil collection company. Should you need it, ask for the company's telephone number again through the Port's Captaincy.

- Draining / Discharge hours from 9:00 to 11:00 am
- Apply for bilge discharge service request to the Port's Captaincy

Sustainability & Circular Economy

In Port Adriano we are committed to contribute to the sustainable development of our area and to the well-being of the community that surrounds us through transparent and ethical environmental behaviour.

Since 2004 we have been certified internationally according to the ISO 9001 and 14001 standards, and in 2009 we were certified by EMAS, a European certificate that requires the most demanding standards of good environmental practices and legislative compliance, in addition to providing recognition that represents a commitment to continuous improvement for the benefit of our partners, users and our environment.

Every year, Ocibar publishes a report on its website with information on the monitoring of the main environmental indicators and from which the environmental objectives for the coming years are established.

There is a strong commitment to guaranteeing the well-being of all users and workers at the port, which we achieve through exhaustive control of health and safety measures.

This commitment and responsibility have led us to launch in this year 2020 a pioneering Project of Circular Economy in the marine industry of the Balearic Islands, linked to the Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations (SDG Agenda 2030).

This Circular Economy Project aims to work as a lever to maximize the use of resources, minimize the generation of unusable waste and prevent pollution of the sea, combining environmental, economic and social.

Within the social framework, our organization works with the community, promoting information about the environment through educational activities aimed at children, collaborating with non-governmental organizations to help increase information and recycling of waste among port users and supporting charitable causes linked to the welfare and development of children and society.

Our commitment to the conservation and protection of the environment at sea and on the coast is based on:

- Optimizing water and energy consumption
- Preventing pollution
- Promoting selective waste collection
- Controlling and reducing atmospheric and noise pollution
- Defining and ensuring emergency plans
- Complying with applicable legislation
- Training workers in sustainability and occupational health and safety
- Encouraging proactive and positive environmental practices among users, customers and suppliers
- Initiating such practices ourselves with events such as Plastic Day or collaborate with important associations and causes such as The Seabin, Project, Palma Aquarium Foundation, Calvià City Council's Posidonia Campaign, Mar de Fondo, Project Zero, Save the Med, CleanWave Foundation, etc

Port Adriano's strategic objectives in our circular economy approach are:

Enhance the reduction of waste generated

Increase the amount of waste
that is recycled

Raise awareness of sustainability

United for a better future

Seabin Project collaboration

In 2017, thanks to the collaboration with the Seabin Project, consisting of the installation of a revolutionary floating litter bin that collects plastics from the sea, Port Adriano received an award from the Balearic Government for the best CSR initiative, being the first Seabin pilot port.

Fundación
Palma Aquarium

Collaboration agreement between Port Adriano and the Palma Aquarium Foundation

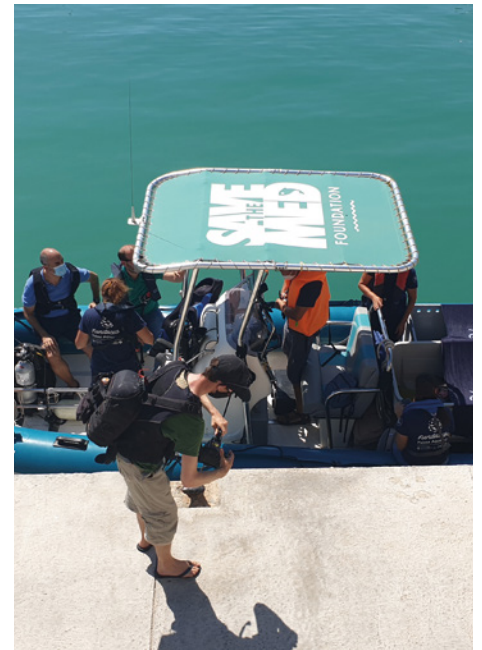

The collaboration agreement between Port Adriano and the Palma Aquarium Foundation actively promotes the conservation of the biodiversity of our seas and oceans. This agreement has three main lines of action:

- Organising training and awareness days for the various interest groups such as schoolchildren, port users and workers.
- Distribution of didactic material based on environmental education and sustainability.
- Active maintenance of a system of assistance to endangered marine species, which focuses especially on the recovery and treatment of sea turtles.

CLEANWAVE

Cleanwave Collaboration

Port Adriano collaborates with the Cleanwave Foundation. Among several of its projects is MedGardens, which mission is to regenerate Mediterranean underwater forests. Among the actions that this foundation provides in Port Adriano are talks and round tables on marine regeneration and plastic prevention. Workshops on marine citizen science, Art Showroom for marine regeneration with talks, exhibitions, art auctions, workshops for children.

Collaboration agreement with SAVE the MED

Port Adriano collaborates with SAVE THE MED Foundation, providing them with a mooring for the NGO's boat and through recreational and environmental actions for the community.

Port Adriano always supports local sport for children and young people.

As a socially responsible action in Port Adriano, we are also sponsors of the teams of Bàsquet Calvià, Club de Atletismo Sporting de Calvià, Fútbol Sala (ETB Calvià) to help these clubs to develop sports programmes for the youngest of our community on a continuous basis.
